The teachers being supportive and encouraging us to do moot courts, seminars, written submissions etc. help us in understand the importance of practical approach of law. This institution has given me best memories, moments to cherish with my institutional family. This institute has given me every possible opportunity to reform myself better as an advocate. Our principal Dr. Anjina Reddy K.R. has always fought his tooth and nail to be our guardian and guide for all students especially at the right time. Through proper guidance of my teacher's and Principal sir, I got seat in O.P. Jindal Law School, Sonipat, Haryana for LL.M course. To conclude, I opine deeply with firm heart that R V Institute of Legal Studies, Bengaluru is my second home.

RV Institute of Legal Studies provided me with an opportunity to enhance my legal skill and enriched my knowledge. The college has a very reciprocal and encouraging teacher's faculty. The principal of this college is the backbone of this informative educational organization. RVILS not only provides a platform to augment academically but also emphasizes on all round development of the student. This law school with its rigorous classroom lectures, multiple projects and assignments and continuous internal assessments, is truly a holistic experience! I firmly believe that utilization of these right sets of circumstances and the balancing of academics with internships and extra-curricular activities majorly has contributed to my legal perspective and who I am today. RVILS is a vibrant space with a diverse number of learning occasions. It is a premier law school who shapes the perfect legal personality.

RV Institute of Legal Studies is an institution that develops a student's intellectual and practical abilities. For aspiring lawyers, our college offers the greatest curriculum and resources. The principal and faculty extend a warm welcome to the students and encourage them to develop their greatest potential. The knowledge and perspective of the students on law are improved by organising regular seminars and legal lectures given by prominent personalities in the legal field. Our college has one of the best libraries, a moot court, a legal-aid cell, an NSS unit, etc. The student can be part of a number of committees and cells to develop their personality. The students at our college are encouraged to compete in National Moot Court Competitions, Debates, Sports, etc. I have emerged from my shell, learned so much, and been given so many opportunities in both academics and extracurricular activities. The perfect atmosphere has been created by RVILS, making it the ideal institution for students to develop their personalities and pursue their legal aspirations.

I'm very thankful for the support and guidance the college has given me. I'm in my final year and being in the first batch to graduate, I can proudly say, the teachers have not only helped me in the academics but also taught me how to deal with the practical realities that not only a lawyer but any person would face in his life and career. I'm also grateful for getting selected in NLSIU and even more to be a part of the RV Institute of Legal Studies.
